Attention:

Gentlemen:

I would like to notify your office that at this time I have applied, the $200.00 contribution to the Hon. James Eastland, Corporation fund, to my personal income. This would in effect make the $200.00 from me personally rather than from Bright Homes, Inc.

I did not know it was illegal to make Corporation contributions at the time of the $200.00, therefore, I am hoping this will clear this matter up.

Respectively

Dear Sir:

On May 9, 1972 a contribution was made to the above captioned campaign fund. At this time I had intended to make this a personal contribution, but in error my office manager failed to charge this to my personal account.

This is to advise that this error has been corrected, and this amount has been charged to my personal Account.

Very Truly yours,
